

Statistics Seminar

Joint Discussion: Looking at the Future

Friday, November 22

12:00 DERR 122

It is already time to conclude the Fall semester and we would like to invite everybody who is interested in contributing to the statistics seminar for next semester. Come with ideas for speakers, presentations, discussions, activities... We are especially looking forward to collaborate between instructors of statistics across disciplines.

Discussion host: Layla Guyot, Doctoral Teaching Assistant at the Department of Mathematics, Texas State University
